

LOWELL MASS. WEDNESDAY AUGUST 11 1909

PRICE ONE CENT

IN POLICE COURT

Small List of Offenders Disposed of by Judge Pickman

John B. Clancy, the job wagon man whose stand is outside the police station in Market street, was arraigned before Judge Pickman in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with having an unlicensed dog in his possession on Aug. 9.

Assistant City Clerk William F. McCarthy testified that this morning Mr. Clancy called at city hall and took out a license for a black brindle and white bull terrier, male and one and one-half years old.

Court Officer Frank Whitney testified to having a conversation with the defendant relative to the dog, which was muzzled and tethered to the job wagon.

Deputy Welch also saw the dog on the wagon on different occasions.

Mr. Clancy when sworn said: "I didn't get the dog until seven or eight days ago, having traded a small dog for him with a man in Billerica. I wanted to see if the dog would stay with me before I licensed him, though I find that I was quite unwise in doing so. I would respectfully ask the court that the case be dismissed. The dog was kept in restraint while I had him. I had him muzzled and chained to the wagon."

John was found guilty and a fine of $5 imposed.

Stole a Watch

Joseph Duchesne pleaded guilty to stealing a watch valued at $19, the property of Letter Carrier James Maguire. Duchesne assisted Expressman Haggerty in moving Mr. Maguire's household effects from Ames to Union street and seeing the watch, stole it and pawned it. A fine of $19 was imposed and he was given three months' time to pay the fine. Judge Pickman informed the prisoner that it was because of his children that needed his support that he was dealt with in such a lenient manner.

Sent to State Farm

Henry Montebello, a man without a home, or place to eat or sleep, pleaded guilty to complaints of drunkenness and vagrancy and was sentenced to the state farm.

John Platt pleaded guilty to being drunk, but after witnesses had testified that the man worked every day and turned his pay over to his wife Judge Pickman stated that such actions spoke volumes even if the man did get drunk, and gave him a suspended sentence to the state farm.

Patrick Brown and Clement Neal, charged with drunkenness, were sentenced to the state farm.

Michael J. Sullivan, Minnie B. Kennedy and Margaret M. Kelley were each fined $2.

There were three $2 drunks.

MAYOR IS COUNSEL

For Man Who Brought Charges Against Officer Bagley

ANOTHER LAWYER

Engaged by Mayor Brown as Counsel in Local Cases

Michael H. Sullivan, of Boston, Retained in Cases of McEvoy vs. the Mayor and Rollins vs. the Mayor

The Charges Completely Demolished by an Overwhelming Preponderance of Evidence—Mayor Brown Domineering and Insolent to Chairman Harris and Supt. Welch—He Charged Officer Bagley With Perjury and Demanded His Removal—The Board Exonerated the Officer, Chairman Harris Stating That He Would Do the Square Thing if He Were on the Board But 24 Hours

The meeting of the police board held last evening was one of the most exciting ever held by any board since the control of the police department was vested in that body. Exempted from the most ridiculous position possible of charging the officer with perjury and discrediting the mayor in demanding his discharge. At every opportunity he declared his intention to stand by the people and against the police department, just as if the department were opposed to the people.

It was a repetition of his stereotyped charges against the police department and his grandstand play to the groundlings. No doubt there are people today who will praise him for this course in spite of the fact that he disgraced himself and the honorable office he holds by his exhibition of abuse and conduct, but in view of the fact that Dussekait was appointed to disorderly conduct and that the other could not assault him the mayor put himself in the most ridiculous position possible of charging the officer with perjury and discrediting the mayor in demanding his discharge. At every opportunity he declared his intention to stand by the people and against the police department, just as if the department were opposed to the people.

It was a repetition of his stereotyped charges against the police department and his grandstand play to the groundlings. No doubt there are people today who will praise him for this course in spite of the fact that he disgraced himself and the honorable office he holds by his exhibition of abuse and his free use of billingsgate in his attempt to discredit Acting Supt. Welch and Chairman Harris of the board.

It can be easily imagined what Mr. Brown would do to the police department if he had his way, if he were reelected into the board, making their procession. There were present at the ceremony over 100 men from the different mission houses of the order in different parts of the country, and St. Michael's convent, Glastonbury, was represented by Sr. Mary Lee, superior.

The two nuns who made their profession of vows were Sister M. Grace, formerly Miss Jenny Donnelly of this city, and Sister Dolaria, formerly Miss Imelda Lavelle of Manchester, N. H.

Harry K. Thaw Issues a Statement

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Harry K. Thaw yesterday issued a statement reviewing the evidence given in his recent hearing on his application for release from the Matterwan prison.

"The best experts," said Thaw in his statement, "have informed me that if my insane man was questioned for 20 minutes as I was questioned, he would assuredly show his insanity. As I have kept him up over 15 hours in all during the trial, he passed me some 45 times over, for the experts said any 20 minutes during his 15 hours of wild and extraordinary questions would have settled my insanity."

"It seems to me I must be perfectly sane in that I am a sensible man who slept in the same room with me, saw me address and go to sleep and wake up, then eat my breakfast, dinner and supper and when took me up on the mountain where I could have left them alone I think had I not been trustworthy, say so. These and many other questions asked by President Patton of Princeton and others, some of whom have known me all my life, and bankers and manufacturers, and police and prison keepers, accustomed to observing both sane and insane men, also clerks, editors, farmers, lawyers and the like, of a great state, all find me perfectly sane and none find anything irrational at all."

"This seems to me to prove my sanity ten times better than whether or not I could handle Mr. Justice in a fourteen and a half hour's debate on every possible subject except the alleged delusions which he did not seem to want explained. May be explanations would have saved his hypothetical question."

ROGER OMARA'S STATEMENT
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 11.—Roger Omara has returned to Pittsburgh, and last night was willing to unequivocally declare Harry Thaw to be not only sane but able to pass a lawyer's examination with credit right at the present time.

Mr. Omara says Harry Thaw will soon be liberated and will go to Europe, "where in some secluded spot, he will quietly rest, never again to touch a gun or pack a gun."

He added: "Mrs. Thaw and Harry deserve no credit if the boy is freed. Lydia will not be troubled with Harry's company. No more white lights or building wine for him. He will live in the future for the mother. Harry Thaw is a safe son-in-law."

As the time approaches when a double burden rests on the mother's shoulders, nourishing and strengthening food must be provided in plenty. The superb vitality of perfect womanhood may be insured if the way is steadily prepared by a persistent use of it.

Two Societies Have Been Driven From Ellis Island

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Society leaders from New Haven, Conn., who associated themselves with members in Ellis Island by personal appearance to furnish assistance to the immigrants, say they are to be held responsible for the loss of their organization, according to the officials here. It is reported by the committee for the greater Welfare Welfare Association, the expense of which in about $1,000, was paid to the agents of the American Protective Association, who were found to be dishonest. More than $1,000 was consumed in finding the organization.

The executive committee of the Metropolitan park police came to this city last night and reported in meeting to the local police and patrolmen that the two societies were to assist the inspectors in locating the thief.

It was not long before the chief residents of New York city, holding to employ immigrants, charged $2 for each immigrant taken from the French boat. In many other respects no institution has failed to meet the requirements of the authorities.

Mr. Williams also wrote a letter to the trustees of the Swedish Lutheran Home, which contains an inscription along the water front, inviting the agent of its representatives, Andrej Lauter, to appear on board.

One of the main points in the letter is that a number of Swedish girls were sent to determine the fitness of which is given by their father, who is to be located. More than $1,000 was consumed in finding the organization.

COL. POPE DEAD IOWA SENATOR

Pioneer Bicycle Manufacturer Passes Away

COHASSET, Aug. 11.—Col. Albert A. Pope of Boston best known as a bicycle and automobile manufacturer died at his summer home on Jerusalem road, North Coasset, at 3:30 yesterday afternoon.

Col. Pope, who had been in failing health for the past two years or more, came to his summer home here last May when his illness became so serious as to alarm his family. Since then he has been more or less confined to his bed and Tuesday it was learned that pneumonia had developed. He was 66 years old.

With him when he died were the wife, his sons, A. L. and Rudolph and his sisters, Dr. Augusta E. Pope, Dr. Emily E. Rose and Miss Leonora Pope, all of Boston.

His daughter, Mrs. Freeman Hinckley of Boston, arrived soon after the death and his third son, Harold L. Pope of Toledo, O., was notified of his father's death and is on his way here.

As yet no arrangements have been made for the funeral.

Few men were more respected or more widely known in Boston, Mass., or even America than Col. Albert Augustus Pope.

He began his career as a plowboy at the age of 9 years; was a market gardener producing lettuce when he was 13; commanded a company of home guards when he was 18, and fought in the head of a company of the 35th Mass. infantry on a Vicksburg battlefield before he was 19.

Not long afterwards he established a new industry in America, made a fortune for himself and others, and spent his money lavishly in every good work.

Col. Pope was born in Boston, May 29, 1843, son of Charles and Elizabeth Chapman Pope. His parents were from good old New England stock. The Paines, Pierces, Conns., Stribles and Neals.

ANTI-TRUST LAW

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Attorney-General Wickesham arrived yesterday at his home at Cold Spring, L. I. For seven weeks he plans to devote his time in seclusion to the consideration of the Sherman anti-trust law, the interests, commercial and industrial relations in view to the formation of the new customs court.

STATE FORESTER

Sends Note of Warning Against Forest Fires

Owing to the many forest fires which occurred during the very dry spell and which are still too numerous for comfort, the state forester has caused to be issued the following letter:

August 5, 1909.
To the Mayor and Aldermen,
Lowell, Mass.

Gentlemen:—The present season of extremely dry weather similar to the drought of a year ago, which caused such disastrous results in our forests, has now produced a condition of public danger. The slightest spark carelessly dropped in the woods will cause a loss of thousands of dollars to a community.

The selectmen of all towns and the governing bodies of all cities containing woodlands should use all preventive measures, such as establishing an efficient patrol of the woods, or place a watchman at some high point to give an alarm so that any incipient fires may be put out at once.

All expenses arising from this work of prevention should be borne by the town or city, and the loss to the timber and land. When the occasion arises, do not fail to notify this office.

Very truly yours,

F. W. RANE, State Forester.

Judging from the testimony in the Shaw case and several others of a similar kind it would appear that it is entirely possible to secure experts of high standing to prove that any man is insane or the contrary just as may be desired. These experts on insanity can make it appear that the subject has an insane motive and that the most insane act is based upon sane motives.

POVERTY IN LONDON

Samuel Gompers has stated that he left London with a depressed feeling owing to the desolation he saw there. It is true that in spite of the greatness of the city, London shows a degree of desolation seldom equalled in other parts of the empire. It is worthy of note also that the poor in London are allowed to flaunt their poverty in the face of every stranger, whereas, in this country the man who goes out openly to beg in the streets, will be arrested. It is nothing new for London to show desolation of the worst kind, but according to reports it is worse now than ever before. The drain of taxation for war and other expenditures has had the result of impoverishing the country with the result that pauperism is more common and the means of relief less abundant.

TURKEY SHOULD BE MADE TOLERANT OF CHRISTIANS

Every few years Turkey gives an exhibition of intolerance towards the Christians who happen to be within her dominions. Turkey has been defended by several European nations that have no interest in the maintenance of Mohammedan sway. Now that the Turkish government is in a state of transition in the direction of liberalism, these powers should insist that henceforth she grant to Christians throughout her dominions equal rights and privileges with her Moslem subjects.

If she does not see fit to do this, then the empire should be dismembered and divided among the great European powers. That would have been done long ago were it not for the general fear of destroying the balance of power on the international chess board of Europe. The time is ripe, however, to insist upon such a concession on the part of Turkey so as to prevent forever a recurrence of the Armenian massacres or the other outrages perpetrated upon Christian missionaries at one point or another throughout the Turkish domain.

SOUTH AMERICAN WARFARE

The South American republics continue to keep up the traditional warfare for which they are noted. If it is not Peru or Chili that are engaged in war it may be Venezuela and some other power, or when a republic cannot pick a quarrel with any of its neighbors, it usually splits up in two sections so that it can have a war of its own without external assistance. It would be difficult to mention a time when absolute peace prevailed among the republics of Southern and Central America. If the states are not fighting with one another they are engaged in stamping out rebellions against the established forms of government or the ruling authorities.

It is plain that out of such a chaotic state of affairs, there will be evolved in the course of time a number of states that will combine their forces for general control of all the South American republics, and establish a union of states modeled after the plan of our own country.

Such an outcome may be far distant, it is true, but it is destined to come with the onward march of civilization. It would be a boon to all the states involved to be under a common federal government working for the general good, while each state possessed the sovereign right to make its own laws and rule its destinies subject only to the national government under which it would be protected in case of danger.

At the present time none of the states is sufficiently far ahead of the others, either in power or in intelligence, to initiate a movement for a union of the warring states. Time, however, will regulate this and the general combination of all the states under one government will be made necessary by the opening of the Pan-American Canal. It will serve to develop the commerce and industry of South America as nothing ever did before.

ONLY RADICAL CURRENCY REFORM CAN PREVENT PANIC

According to republican prophets the country will now undergo a period of great prosperity. That is not quite true, inasmuch as the losses and reverses that have resulted in an increase in the tariff will endeavor to take advantage of it as soon as possible in order to derive every available dollar out of the new surplus.

In all probability, safety will reign itself in regard to the great prosperity we are to have. It will continue to boom for about four years and then will come another bust, unless the republican party in the meantime provides some form of currency that will protect business much as a collapse and deflation did in a very experienced during the years of 1903 and 1907.

The Michigan-Vermont bill, introduced in Congress, will go to prevent the recurrence of such a period. Some financial institution with assets similar to those of the Bank of France would probably save the country. None of the major banks in the United States have thus far proved effective in stopping a run, as the confidence is lost and men run away and even bankers begin to lose confidence. It will require congressional legislation to prevent a run, provided for every panic, because the people are more timid than they were before. The republican party will have to take decisive action in the matter of currency reform in order to forestall the tendency to panic on the part of the financial institutions.

President Taft is the man who should take up this matter and have some legislative remedy applied. He will give our currency sufficient elasticity to meet all the demands of limited business and that will sustain public confidence and steady prices stocks, so as to prevent the tendencies every man to decide that it is best to keep his money in an iron box.

SEEN AND HEARD

A meeting was in progress at which the speakers had waxed eloquent on "The Perfection of the Ideal," concluding that perfection had never been attained in the human race. And soon it appealed to his audience:

"Think carefully, each for himself and himself, every man and woman in this audience, have you ever known or heard of a perfect person? I mean not a creature at all?"

Science reigned over the audience until there was a sort rustling of seats and slowly there arose a dim figure, little woman, who in a voice said, "I think I have seen it."

The whole audience turned to look at the little woman as the surprised speaker said with a touch of irony in his voice,

"And now we know, madam, who was this perfect person?"

"Very well, madam, who was this perfect person?"

"Very well, madam, who was this perfect person?"

Two meetings of a certain woman, whose respective instrumentalities did not do the first instance prove quite satisfactory, met at a woman's home one day, when the instrument was temporarily out.

"Guitar, I met your 'sex' dear old friend a day before yesterday. We talked much of you,"

"Did you ask the other instrument 'Did he seem sorry when you told him of my second marriage?'"

"Yes, he did and said 'so most sincerely,'"

"Indeed! He said he was extremely sorry to hear he added, he didn't know the man personally."

A well-dressed colored woman in a graceful carriage, hearing a commotion in a neighbor's cabin, looked in at the door to find a small boy writhing in great distress, while his mother stood silently over him.

"What's the matter with de child?" asked the visitor sympathetically.

"It's got too much watermelon," responded the mother.

"How big wat' you?" protested the visitor socratically.

"Not too much," replied the boy.

"Indeed! He said he was extremely sorry to hear he added, he didn't know the man personally."

WE SAY again, the author of "The Girl With the Auburn Hair" deserves a round of applause.

There is something in the twinkle of an artist's eye that can never be mistaken.

That can never be passed by his saucy high or lowly, that dares that dauntless, unshaken air that signifies all boldness.

A long-time friend of Victor Basye, the designer of the Lincoln piano, tests us what the spread of the story that the man as a boy sold matches on the street. Writing in the New York Times he says: "It is true that Mr. Basye is a native of Russia, 57 years old, but he never sold matches anywhere. He has been my intimate friend for the last eighteen years, and I have known him to be an engraver and sculptor. Some of the models which he designed fifteen years ago are excellent examples of his remarkable ability in this art." In the

We all know that nature has set apart every woman with delicate hair. Some very fragile women have tried earlier recently in this aspect.

For instance there are tens of thousands of women in America today who have bushy, fat and lusterless hair, who are unsatisfactory simply because they do not know that now-a-days the quality of nature can be evaluated in the science of science.

If you are a woman without beautiful hair, do not permit your attractions to suffer because of this slight infirmity.

COUNT ZEPPELIN, NOTED AERONAUT, WHO UNDERWENT SURGICAL ORDEAL

His Life Saved!

"I can truthfully say I believe NERVES LIFE TABLETS saved my life. No words can tell my condition. I had fits, my body wasted away, my stomach relaxed, the nights were filled with sleepless torture and I was compelled to remain in bed for months. I am forty years old and nothing seemed to reach me as fast as time. I was told I was to die. Nothing could have been more terrible. I have no signs of the fits sleep well, am gaining strength and feel healthy."

"I cannot say enough in praise of NERVES LIFE TABLETS, as they have worked wonders for me. I would never get relief, for I had been taking medicine for over three years. All that I had taken did me no good and only served to make me worse. I have taken four boxes of NERVES and am feeling better than at any time for years. I am able to work and enjoy life." Francis McKeon, 117 Chestnut St., Boston.

"My story is wonderful, personally more than fifty men and women suffer from nervousness, insomnia, rheumatism, insomnia and stomach and heart trouble, who found relief in NERVES. Call and talk with me at Storch's Drug Department." Mrs. Brooks of Storch's.

READ TESTIMONIALS FROM LIVE PEOPLE

"NERVES have given me the best winter in twenty years."

"NERVES have helped me from the difficulty of having disease."

"Nerves in my new body I found in NERVES."

"My symptoms, indigestion and diarrhea were never better."

"Instead of us, I feel as I did at twelve."

"The greatest nerve and blood tablets ever compounded. Relieve pain from overwork, brain fog, excessive smoking. Continue to operate from no health, have no reaction. Relieve nervous exhaustion, prostration and disorders of stomach, kidneys and liver. They help with all life. They make blood, strengthen flesh and clear eyes. They induce sleep quickly, the heart, restore the nerves. They double one's power of endurance. They stop your shaking cold. Ask for testimonial circular. REGULAR SIZE BOX AT ONE, AT OUR STORES OR BY MAIL."

TRANSFERS TO WED AGAIN

MR. AND MRS. KELLEY TAKE OUT A PERMIT

BROCKTON, Aug. 11.—A marriage license has been issued to John Joseph Kelley of 40 West Elm Street, employed at the Chemical and Alum company's factory in Brockton, and Mrs. Corinella M. Kelley of 1173 Montello street, at the office of City Clerk Packard.

An unusual feature is that they were married before obtaining a divorce and new plan to wed again.

Miss Kelley was on the stage last winter and plans to join a company again during the coming season, according to her friends.

Neither of them has confided to friends when the wedding is to take place.

BASKET PICNIC OF KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS WILL BE HELD TOMORROW

The postponed basket picnic of Lowell Council Knights of Columbus, will be held at the Elks Club, Tyngsboro, tomorrow afternoon and evening. Special cars will leave Merrimack Square at 1:45 and 2:15 o'clock. The picnic is for members and their families and lady friends exclusively.

MRS. EVELYN THAW

Says That She'd Settle With Her Husband for $200,000

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—"I sacrificed my life and my reputation and my everything to save the life of Harry K. Thaw. I looked at it in this way at the time: I must do it or be a 'spitter.' Conditions are not now as they were then between us, but if I had a husband and I were called upon under the same conditions, I should do the very same thing over again."

This was Evelyn Nesbit Thaw's answer to the statement made by Dist. Atty. Jerome at White Plains last Saturday, that the story she told on the witness stand to save Thaw from the electric chair was false.

Mrs. Thaw gave out a statement last night at her apartment in West 33rd street, in which she branded the declaration of Chas. Morschauer, Thaw's attorney, that she had demanded a lump sum of $200,000, as unqualifiedly false. In addition, for the first time, she gave out the sum of money she says to have received under the terms of the proposed annulment. She said that under these terms a sum that would bring her an income of $1000 a month for life was to have been placed in trust for her.

$200,000 in a Lump Sum

"I did not wish $200,000 in a lump sum," said she, "but I desired it so much where I could not get the principle, but would receive this sum a month during our life. I did not consider it a fair amount to my means, when my husband's income was $5000 a year, and he was paying hundreds of thousands of dollars to lawyers and others, but I thought the quiet life was the best, and agreed to this amount. I went so far as to have a referee appointed, but when my husband and his mother let the matter drop, I withdrew my proceedings."

"At that time—it was when Mr. Thaw first went to Matteawan—Col. Bartlett, Mrs. Thaw's lawyer, and Mr. Peabody, my husband's lawyer, each agreed that I had done so much for Mr. Thaw that a fair settlement should be made in my behalf. It was arranged that the trust fund should be established. Col. Bartlett informed my lawyer that at the time J. Dennis Lyon, the Thaw banker, was in Florida, and when he returned everything would be arranged. For some reason it never was. I do not know why."

No Further Sacrifice

"I desire to say right here that I refuse to sacrifice myself any further for Harry K. Thaw, there is absolutely no reason for it. I do not feel that I am responsible for anything he did in the past, or for what he may do in the future, nor am I responsible for his incarceration in an asylum—I think the least he can do is to support me, and this seems to be a point on which he has failed. Mr. Morschauer's advice is absolutely. His attitude toward my support changed with the entrance of this lawyer into the case."

"When Col. Bartlett and Mr. Peabody were alive, they advised, and agreed that the decent thing should be done by me, but here comes this up-state lawyer and says that I should not do nothing and should go back to work. He has said on several occasions that as long as the Thaw coal loads hold out, he will be willing to represent Thaw. From his point of view this may be all right, but surely not from mine."

"Colonel Bartlett and Mr. Peabody held that by settling this amount on me it would call all unnecessary notoriety and save a suit. I did not think that the amount was fair, but I had only one thought, which was to get out of this business as quickly and quietly as I could. Thaw objected to the annulment proceedings."

"Was it because of any regard for you?" was asked.

"No, indeed," responded Mrs. Thaw, "it was just because he did not wish me to have any money."

SOLEMN REQUIEM

FOR LATE FR. RONAN AT ST. PETER'S CHURCH

At St. Peter's church this morning at 8 o'clock a solemn high mass of requiem was offered up for the repose of the soul of the late Rev. Michael Ronan. The mass was requested by the Marcellus Ladies' society of the parish, and in the large congregation were many members of the society. Rev. John T. Burns was the celebrant, Rev. W. George Martin deacon, and Rev. John T. O'Brien sub-deacon. The choir, with Prof. Hargrave directing, sang the Gregorian mass.

THE WAR GAME

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 11. It is expected that about 3000 New York state militiamen will participate in the Massachusetts war game next week. The organizations which will march from New York will include the 5th and 6th regiments of infantry, 1st regiment engineers, 1st battery field artillery, and 1st and 2nd companies signal corps.

The soldiers will disembark at New Bedford, which has been designated as the base of supplies for the attacking army, at which the New York state militia will form a part.

RECONSTRUCTING ROAD

PEKING, Aug. 11.—Telegraphic reports received here from Manchuria are to the effect that the work of reconstructing the Antung-Mukden railway by Japan from Antung to the north is proceeding rapidly and without friction.

MAYOR IS COUNSEL ANOTHER LAWYER

For Man Who Brought Charges Against Officer Bagley

Engaged by Mayor Brown as Counsel in Local Cases

Michael H. Sullivan, of Boston, Retained in Cases of McEvoy vs. the Mayor and Rollins vs. the Mayor

The Charges Completely Demolished by an Overwhelming Preponderance of Evidence—Mayor Brown Domineering and Insolent to Chairman Harris and Supt. Welch—He Charged Officer Bagley With Perjury and Demanded His Removal—The Board Exonerated the Officer, Chairman Harris Stating That He Would Do the Square Thing if He Were on the Board But 24 Hours

The meeting of the police board held last evening was one of the most exciting ever held by any board since Dusseault was arrested for disorderly conduct and that the officer did not assault him or the mayor put himself in the control of the police department. Excitement was vested in that body. Excitement was due entirely to the appearance of Mayor Brown in the role of counsel for a man who had made a serious charge against a police officer, the charge of unprovoked assault and personal injury, while making an arrest. The officer in question is Patrick H. Bagley and the complainant Samuel Dusseault.

The mayor left his office at city hall to conduct the case for Dusseault. Had he done this in good faith to secure fair treatment for the complainant there might be some excuse for his conduct, but in view of the fact that Dusseault was arrested for disorderly conduct and that the officer did not assault him or the mayor put himself in the control of the police board.

It can be easily imagined what Mayor Brown would do to the police department if he had his way. If he were superintendent of the department no effort would be spared against Dusseault and his friends.

We do not believe, however, that the mere fact that the board of police disregarded the governor's appeal last night indicates that there is any break between him and the board or that the board will disregard his request on more important matters. Last night the board could not do otherwise under

IS UNABLE TO FORM NEW CABINET

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 11.—Count Frijs today informed King Frederik that after consultation with his political friends he found it impossible to form a new cabinet.

The Danish cabinet resigned last month because of its failure to secure the support of parliament for its project of military defense and Count Frijs was requested by the king to form a new ministry.

UNITED STATES

TO GET ONE-FOURTH OF THE CHINESE LOAN

PEKING, Aug. 11.—At the meeting held here yesterday Henry P. Fletcher, the American chargé d'affaires, represented the German, British and French groups of bankers and Tung Yen, president of the board of foreign affairs, announced yesterday that the United States would get one-fourth of the total loan for the construction of the Han-Yang-Sui-Chuan railroad.

In Lowell's half Venetian cut to Snow who handled it, he was thrown out, however, while trying to steal second. Fitzpatrick sent a groundster to Verles and was second out. Fitzpatrick hit to Anderson and was out at first.

Score: Worcester 1, Lowell 6.

Fourth Inning

The visitors scored one run in the fourth inning, but the heat was still on. Score: Worcester 1, Lowell 6.

Third Inning

Two more grounders were registered in the third inning. Shay opened with a single to right field and went to second on Labell's double. Verles struck out. Braskey flied to Venable and Lagan died to Howard.

Howard and Lagan died to Braskey.

Score: Worcester 1, Lowell 6.

Seventh Inning

No other side scored in the seventh inning. Braskey got a single, but he could not score on the double of the fans. Russell was the runner up and he hit a double and was out at first. Braskey hit to Venable and Venable flied to Howard. As a result of the groundster hit by Braskey and the double of the fans, the visitors had three hits.

Braskey was the only one to score.

Score: Worcester 1, Lowell 6.

THE SUTTON CASE

More Witnesses Testified at Today's Session of Court

ANNAPOULS, Md., Aug. 11.—The resumption today of the court of inquiry investigating the death of Lieut. James N. Sutton, U. S. M. C., seemed to bring the close of the case within measurable distance. Six more witnesses may be put upon the stand, Judge Advocate Major Leonard will sum up, Henry Davis, counsel for Mrs. Sutton, will follow, and A. E. Birney, representing Lieut. Adams, will argue. The judge advocate will then close.

H. B. Taylor, under-taker, and Jas. N. Weybold, who prepared Lieut. Sutton's body for burial both testified that there was no evidence that either of the arms had been broken. Weybold said there were no indications that he had been beaten though the witness had made no examination for such marks. Prof. Gilbert P. Collier, man of the Naval academy said that he was in the company of Lieut. Sutton from luncheon time until about midnight October 12, 1906, the night of Sutton's death, then leaving the officer with Miss May Stewart of Pittsburgh. In the assembly room of the hotel, Lieut. Sutton had been perfectly sober at that time.

Lieut. Summer, U. S. M. C., testified to seeing at the hotel the same night Adams, Ostendorf, and Culver and asserted that all of them were sober at that time. Sutton, he said, entered the room and offered those in the party a drink from a bottle of whiskey, which all declined. Lieut. Summer said he afterward went to town. After his arrival there he saw Lieut. Sutton leaving the camp armed and without his coat. Later he heard shots not going in the direction from which they appeared to come, saw Lieut. Sutton on the ground. He also saw Lieut. Becker, who appeared to have been injured, and taking him to camp found his clothing penetrated by a bullet which was found in his garments.

The witness identified as his own, a card on which he had written "Sutton, I am a damn fool. Consider the gun business cut out." This he had signed before the witness had made no examination for such marks. Prof. Gilbert P. Collier, man of the Naval academy said that he was in the company of Lieut. Sutton on an occasion when the latter was very much intoxicated. The witness hoped that it would be a means of inducing him to go to his hotel peacefully.

Lieut. Summer testified that Lieut. Sutton was not of good reputation among the other student officers and that he did not believe Sutton to be truthful.

Recess.

SPECTACULAR GAME

Lowell Shuts Out Lynn Team by Fine Work

The best played and most interesting game of the season Lowell defeated the Lynn Indians by a score of 1 to 0.

Score—Lowell 1, Lynn 0.

Eighth Inning

In the eighth Page hit to Venable, who, after a pretty one-hand pickup, threw to first, Burg sent him along with a sacrifice. But the best Hamilton could do was a pop fly to Venable, while Zimmerman lied out to Unie. At Lowell's turn, Leonard hit to O'Rourke and was out at the initial bag. Venable hit a line drive at Hoff, that nicely knocked off his right hand. The ball bounded to Page, who threw back out at the first stopping place. Fitzpatrick did to Murphy.

Both pitchers received gilt edged support.

Rube Vinson contributed the greatest sensational feature of the game in making a running catch almost out to the centre field fence, which would have surely been a three-bagger and in all probability a home run. Fitzpatrick at second base was there with a number of clever plays.

The hitting features were contributed by Howard and Tammie Unie. In the fourth Howard with one out, Howard hit to right field for a pretty single. Unie then bunted the sphere out into deep right center. Hamilton and Murphy went after it fast, and Howard stalled for a moment between first and second until he saw the ball traveling beyond the immediate reach of the two flying fielders and then continued on his way to the plate, while Unie was on third when the ball came back. It was a beautiful drive and a most timely offering.

The game in detail was as follows:

DIAMOND NOTES

Double-header today.

If you missed yesterday's game you missed one of the best ever played at Spalding park. It was one grand exhibition.

Rube Vinson made a running catch that surely stopped a three-bagger and possibly a home run. It was a peach!

Fitzpatrick did some classy fielding.

Leonard, the Jamaica Plain boy, convinced the fans that he is a clever and a heady pitcher.

A large delegation of Lynn fans of both sexes, armed with lunge of leather and other noise-making instruments, came in auto to the game. They put up a good exhibition of rooting, but could not show the class of Hi Hi Dickson and Herb Webster.

Lynn wanted that game badly.

When little Pete Burg was left on third he well known fan from Lawrence street remarked that Peter must be an ice-Burg as he froze to third. His friend, Paul Koefoed, demanded that he eat all such stuff.

It was worth the price of admission to hear Hi Hi Dickson getting after "Him."

Hamilton looked fit to be tied when Wooden side-stepped second base on a sure three-bagger.

Artist Packwith of the Lynn Item, the young man who was forcibly ejected from the Lawrence grounds because Manager Eaton thinks that cameras are no less was present and was not molested. Lawrence plays Lynn at Glen Forest on Aug. 18, and it is understood that all 20 newspaper cameras men from all over New England will be there.

Score—Lowell 6, Lynn 0.

Fourth Inning

Clever fielding on the part of the Lowell team prevented the visitors from scoring in the fourth inning. With the bases filled and but one out Lynn could not send a man across the plate. Page opened with a fly to Unie. Burg singled and he went to third on Hamilton's two-bagger to left field. Zimmerman drew a base on balls filling the bases. Autrey died to Vinson and the latter made a perfect throw to the plate, holding Burg at first. O'Rourke hit to Unie forcing Zimmerman at second.

In the latter half of the inning Huston hit along the first base line and was out. Leonard was second out on a fly to Hamilton. Venable drew a base on balls but Fitz hit a grounder to Page and was out at first.

Score—Lowell 6, Lynn 0.

Fifth Inning

In the fifth Lynn got two men on base, but could not score. Wooden hit to Fitz and was out at first. Hoff got what looked to be a sure three-bagger or home run but Vinson made a sensational running catch and got the ball, it being the prettiest catch seen on the home grounds this season. The crowd went wild with enthusiasm when Vinson caught the sphere. Murphy hit to Venable who made a good stop but the latter could not get the ball to first in time to prevent the runner from reaching third. Page got a base on balls, but Fitz hit a grounder to Page and was out at first.

Score—Lowell 6, Lynn 0.

Sixth Inning

The visitors were out in one, two, three orders. Hamilton struck out. Zimmerman drew a base on balls and was thrown out while trying to steal second. Autrey was third out on strikes.

Venable died to Murphy. Fitzpatrick hit to Page but the latter trifled the first error made during the game and the runner reached first but when he started to great alarm Unie got a fly to Murphy and a double play followed.

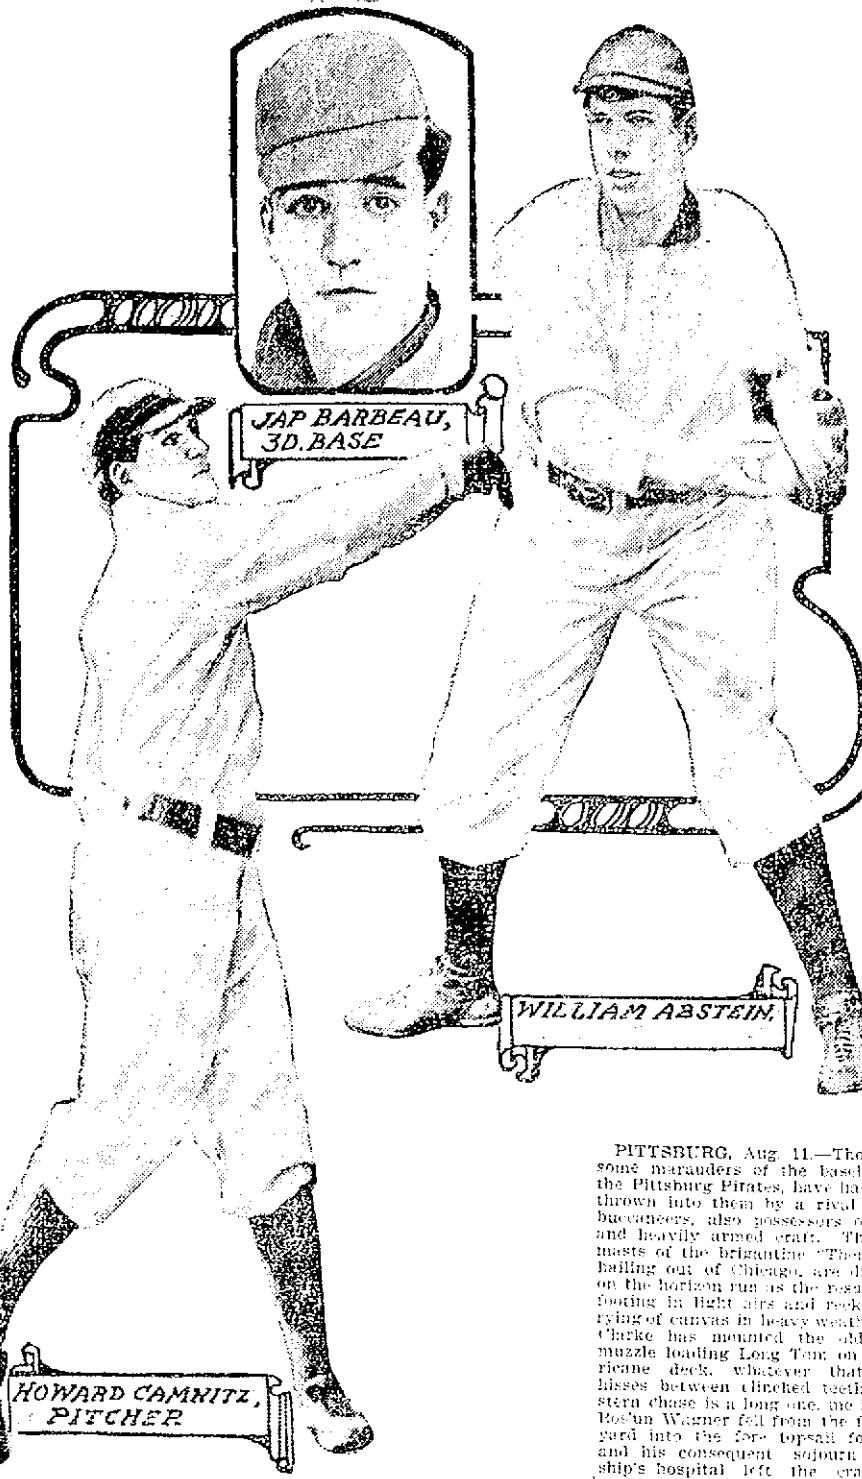

Score—Lowell 6, Lynn 0.

Seventh Inning

The visitors got no free reward in the seventh but could not score. Fitzpatrick drew a base on balls and went to second on Unie's sacrifice. Hoff hit to Fitz and was out at first. O'Rourke trying to steal Murphy struck out.

Lowell broke the ice in the latter half of the inning. Page hit to Page and was out at first. Howard singled to right field. Page hit to right centre field for three bases, scoring

TAX RATE FOR 1909 BEQUEST OF $50,000

Reduced From $20.40 to $19.60 Woman Will Get Share of a Large Estate by Several Causes

The Principal Being the Reduction in the State Tax and Elimination of the Armory Tax —The Increase in Real Estate and Personal Property

LOWELL'S TAX RATE for 1909, as was in real estate, making a total of $2,493,480.

The reduction of 80 cents in the rate is due to the reduction of the state tax, a big gain in personal and real estate, an increase in the number of polls, a reduction of the overhangings and the elimination of the armory tax.

The gain in personal property amounted to $1,753,199.33, and $761,410

NORTH ADAMS, Aug. 11.—Mrs. John J. Agan of Bracewell Avenue has received notification from the attorney of an uncle, Matthew Kavanaugh, who died last Wednesday in Cambridge, Mass., stating that she was named as a beneficiary in the will and would receive something like $50,000.

Mr. Kavanaugh, whom Mrs. Agan has never seen, was a cattle rancher who went west when young and was one of the pioneer ship-builders at Cle Elum. He amassed a fortune of $40,000, a portion of which was invested in the cattle trade of the middle west. About three months ago he became ill and last week died in a hospital. He was 54 years of age.

The main part of the estate went to the blood relatives of Mr. Kavanaugh, these being a brother, John Kavanaugh of Walnut, Kan., and a sister, Mrs. Mary Duncan of Mechanicsville, N. Y., and the five children of a deceased sister, Mrs. Julia Dempsey, who also died in New York state at the time of her death.

Mrs. Agan is one of the children and the other four nieces and nephews are Peter Dempsey of Shoshone, N. Y.; Mrs. Mary Norma of Waterford, N. Y.; Mrs. Julia Flanagan of Cambridge, N. Y.; and John Dempsey of Cambridge, N. Y.

Mrs. Agan knew very little about the uncle aside from the fact that he went west when a young man and had been successful in his business.

Mrs. Agan was born in New York state about forty years ago, her husband is John J. Agan, a carpenter, and they have two children. When the copy of the will reached Mrs. Agan she was completely overcome. "Just think what can be done with all that money!" said Mrs. Agan.

COL. POPE DEAD IOWA SENATOR

Pioneer Bicycle Manufacturer Passes Away

COHASSET, Aug. 11.—Col. Albert A. Pope of Boston best known as a bicycle and automobile manufacturer, died at his summer home on Jeromeau road, North Coxsackie, at 5:45 yesterday afternoon.

Col. Pope, who had been in failing health for the past two years or more, came to his summer home here last May when his illness became so serious as to alarm his family. Since then he has been more or less confined to his bed and Tuesday it was learned that pneumonia had developed. He was 66 years old.

With him when he died were the wife, his son, A. L. and Edith, and his sisters, Dr. Augusta F. Pope, Dr. Emily F. Pope and Miss Leonora Pope, all of Boston.

His daughter, Mrs. Freeman Hinckley of Boston, arrived soon after the death, and his third son, Harold L. Pope of Toledo, O., was notified of his father's death and is on his way here. As yet no arrangements have been made for the funeral.

Now more respected or more widely known in Boston, Mass., or even America than Col. Albert Augustus Pope.

He began his career as a plowboy at the age of 9 years; was a market gardener produce before he was 12; commanded a company of home guards when he was 18, and fought at the head of a company of the 35th Mass. infantry on a Virginia battlefield before he was 19.

Not long afterwards he established a new industry in America, made a fortune for himself and others, and spent his money wisely in every good work.

Col. Pope was born in Boston, May 29, 1842, son of Charles and Elizabeth (Brown) Pope. He came from good old New England stock the Popes, Phares, Colles, Stubbs and Neales.

STATE FORESTER Sends Note of Warning Against Forest Fires

Owing to the many forest fires which occurred during the very dry spell and which are still too numerous for comfort, the state forester has caused to be issued the following letter:

August 1, 1909.
To the Mayor and Aldermen
Lowell, Mass.

Gentlemen.—The present season of extremely dry weather seems to the drought of a few days, which caused such great destruction in our forests, has now produced a condition of great danger. The slightest spark easily destroys the woods will cause loss of thousands of dollars to a community.

All expenses arising from this work are insignificant compared with the cost of fighting a large fire, not considering the loss by damage to the timber and land. When the occasion arises do not fail to notify this office.

Very truly yours,
F. W. RANE, State Forester.

The selection of all towns and the governing bodies of all cities containing woodlands should use all preventive measures, such as establishing an efficient patrol of the woods, or placing a watchman at some high point to give an alarm so that any incendiary may be put out at once.

SANITY OR INSANITY

Judging from the testimony in the Tracy case and several others of a similar kind it would appear that it is entirely possible to secure experts of high standing to prove that any man is insane or the contrary just as may be desired. These experts on insanity can make it appear that the sanest act has an insane motive and that the most insane act is based upon sane motives.

POVERTY IN LONDON

Samuel Gompers has stated that he left London with a depressed feeling owing to the destitution he saw there. It is true that in spite of the greatness of the city, London shows a degree of destitution seldom equalled in other parts of the empire. It is worthy of note also that the poor in London are allowed to flaunt their poverty in the face of every stranger, whereas, in this country the man who goes out openly to beg in the streets, will be arrested. It is nothing new for London to show destitution of the worst kind, but according to reports it is worse now than ever before. The drain of taxation for war and other expenditures has had the result of impoverishing the country with the result that pauperism is more common and the means of relief less abundant.

TURKEY SHOULD BE MADE TOLERANT OF CHRISTIANS

Every few years Turkey gives an exhibition of intolerance towards the Christians who happen to be within her dominions. Turkey has been defended by several European nations that have no interest in the maintenance of Mohammedan sway. Now that the Turkish government is in a state of transition in the direction of liberalism, these powers should insist that henceforth she grant to Christians throughout her dominions equal rights and privileges with her Moslem subjects.

If she does not see fit to do this, then the empire should be dismembered and divided among the great European powers. That would have been done long ago were it not for the general fear of destroying the balance of power on the international chess board of Europe. The time is ripe, however, to insist upon such a concession on the part of Turkey so as to prevent forever a recurrence of the Armenian massacres or the other outrages perpetrated upon Christian missionaries at one point or another throughout the Turkish domain.

SOUTH AMERICAN WARFARE

The South American republics continue to keep up the traditional warfare for which they are noted. If it is not Peru or Chile that are engaged in war it may be Venezuela and some other power, or when a republic cannot pick a quarrel with any of its neighbors, it usually splits up in two sections so that it can have a war of its own without external assistance. It would be difficult to mention a time when absolute peace prevailed among the republics of Southern and Central America. If the states are not fighting with one another they are engaged in stamping out rebellions against the established forms of government or the ruling authorities.

It is plain that out of such a chaotic state of affairs, there will be evolved in the course of time a number of states that will combine their forces for general control of all the South American republics, and establish a union of states modeled after the plan of our own country.

Such an outcome may be far distant, it is true, but it is destined to come with the onward march of civilization. It would be a boon to all the states involved to be under a common federal government working for the general good, while each state possessed the sovereign right to make its own laws and rule its destiny subject only to the national government under which it would be protected in case of danger.

At the present time none of the states is sufficiently far ahead of the others, either in power or in intelligence, to initiate a movement for a union of the warring states. Time, however, will regulate this and the general combination of all the states under one government will be made more necessary by the opening of the Panama canal. It will serve to develop the commerce and industry of South America as nothing ever did before.

ONLY RADICAL CURRENCY REFORM CAN PREVENT PANIC

According to republican prophecies, the country will now undergo a period of great prosperity. That no doubt is true, because as the trusts and combines that have secured an increase in the tariff will endeavor to take advantage of it as soon as possible in order to derive every available dollar out of the new subsidies.

In all probability, however, will repeat itself in regard to the great prosperity we are to have. It will continue to boom for about four years and then will come the panic unless the republican party in the meantime provides some form of currency that will protect investors against a collapse and bankruptcy such as were experienced during the years of 1896 and 1907.

The Murch-Vreeland law, was, but a makeshift at best, and will not prevent the recurrence of a similar, semi-national institution with functions similar to those of the bank of France would probably serve the purpose. None of the recoinage schemes of financial reform have thus far proved effective in stopping the crash when confidence is lost and manufacturers and even bankers begin to load their wallets. It will require some radical legislation to prevent another panic, for every panic leaves the people more afraid than they were before. The republican party will have to take decisive action in the matter of currency reform in order to forestall the tendency to panic on the least sign of financial storm.

President Taft is the man who should take up this matter and have some legislative remedy applied that will give our currency sufficient elasticity to meet all the demands of inflated business and that will sustain public confidence amidst even grave shocks, so as to prevent the feeling that causes every man to decide that it is best to keep his money in an iron box.

SEEN AND HEARD

A meeting was in progress at which the speaker had waived freedom of "The Perfection of the Human Race," noting that perfection had been attained in the human race. And said he appealed to his audience:

"Think carefully, each for himself and herself, every man and woman in this audience. Has ever known or heard of a perfect person? I mean now perfection absolute?"

Silence reigned over the audience until there was a soft rustling of shirts, and slowly there arose a voice, a mere little murmur, who in a weak voice said: "I think I have seen it."

The whole audience turned to look at the little woman, as the speaker spoke, with a touch of irony in his voice:

"And may we know, madam, who was this perfect person?"

"You will understand the name, I suppose, of Lubbers' first wife."

"Thank you, madam," said the speaker, with a touch of irony in his voice.

"And may we know, madam, who was this perfect person?"

"You will understand the name, I suppose, of Lubbers' first wife."

Two matrons of a certain western city, whose respective matrimonial ventures had not in the first instance proved altogether satisfactory, met at a women's club one day, when the first matron remarked:

"Hattie, I met your 'boy' dear old Tom the day before yesterday. We talked much of you."

"He that so," asked the other matron. "Did he seem sorry when you told him of my second marriage?"

"Indeed, as daily; and said so most frankly."

"Honorable?"

"Honorable he said he was extremely sorry, though he added he didn't know the term personally."

A middle-aged colored woman in a Georgia village, hearing a commotion in a neighbor's cabin, looked out at the door on the inner bay a small boy writhing in great distress while his mother stood silently over him.

"What-all's de matter wif de child?" asked the visitor sympathetically.

"I speeche h'p's t'v' much watermellon," responded the mother.

"How long wif you?" protested the visitor sorrowfully. "Day can't never be too much watermellon. Itt' nus' be dat day chit' enough boy."

DE SILENT

We may name a hundred drawbacks. That's not must need in life. We may say it's all a "battle." And a never-ending "battle." Then resolve to name it bravely—Stand the test to the last, determine to live or die, to fight. Lies in just one word—the "square."

There is something in the twinkle Of an honest fellow's eye That can never be mistaken. And can never be passed by. People's eyes are like mirrors. Theirs are diamonds, and, like air that touches are diamonds. That the man they see is "square."

Heaven never sent me but a few times. If you're a fool, you're a fool.

They'll bring you down to your feet.

Make the "square" a bit more square.

Make the "square" a bit more square.

For the greatest thing in men!

Will respect the man who's "square."

PEOPLE OF NOTE.

A long-time friend of Victor Bremer, the designer of the Linenex (panny) protest against the spread of the stinks that the man as a boy sold matches on the street. Writing in the New York Times he says: "It is true that Mr. Bremer is a native of Russia, 50 years old, but he never sold matches anywhere. He has been my intimate friend for the last eighteen years, and I have always known him to be an engraver and sculptor. Some of the medals which I designed fifteen years ago are excellent examples of his remarkable ability in this art."

THE GIRL WITH THE AUBURN HAIR

You can find her picture on every bottle of Parfum Sage. Don't let anyone press invitations on you. You can always find the genuine at Curtis & Sherburne.

We all know that nature has endowed every woman with glorious hair. Some very beautiful women she has treated rather sadly in this respect.

For instance there are tens of thousands of women in America today who have dark, flat and lifeless hair, who are unattractive simply because they do not know that nowadays even the victims of nature can be overriden by the science of science.

If you are a woman without fair hair, do not permit your attractiveness to be hidden because of this slight misfortune.

Go today to Curtis & Sherburne and buy a large bottle of Parfum Sage for 50 cents, on my bill, plan as it each night, and you will notice the dark, repulsive hair disappear and in its place will come the silvery bright and luxuriant hair.

Parfum Sage is guaranteed to expand, straighten, lengthen and stop falling hair in two weeks, or money back.

It is the only preparation that is absolutely sure to kill the dead hair and keep the scalp cool and clean and sumptuous. Sold by leading druggists everywhere. Made only in America by Curtis & Co., Baldwinsville, N. Y.

COUNT ZEPPELIN, NOTED AERONAUT, WHO UNDERWENT SURGICAL ORDEAL

His Life Saved!

"I can truthfully say I believe NERVES LIFE TABLETS saved my life. No words can tell my condition. I had fits, my body wasted away, my stomach refused food, the nights were filled with sleepless torment, and I was a nervous, lifeless, despondent wretch. I am forty years old. Nothing seemed to reach my case until I was told by a friend to try NERVES. I have taken three boxes and today I am a new man. I have no signs of disease, sleep well, am gaining strength and feel daily improvement. LaValle, 24 Main Street, Lowell, Mass."

"I cannot say enough in praise of NERVES LIFE TABLETS, as they have put me on my feet. I thought I would never get relief, for I had been taking medicine for over three years. All food distressed me, could not work or endure anything. I have taken four boxes of NERVES and am feeling better than at any time in years. Am able to work and enjoy life again. Dr. French McDonald, Dr. Clark, Dr. Bolton."

"My stomach, kidneys and liver were never better."

"Instead of 68, I feel as I did at twenty-eight."

"The greatest nerve and blood tablets ever compounded. Relieved the body from overwork, pain, etc. Contains no irritants, therefore will not cause nervous exhaustion, constipation and disorders of stomach, kidneys and liver. They increase appetite, digestion, assimilation, circulation and dead tissue. They double one's power of endurance. They stop your taking cold."

MR. AND MRS. KELLEY TAKE OUT A PERMIT

BROCKTON, Aug. 11.—A marriage license has been issued to John Joseph Kelley of 19 West Elm street, employee at the Churchill and Allen company's factory in Campello, and Mrs. Corinna

McCarthy of 1154 Montello street, at the office of City Clerk Packard.

An unusual feature is that they were married before, obtained divorce and now plan to wed again.

Mrs. Kelley was on the stage last winter, and plans to join a company again during the coming season, according to her friends. She has lived in Brockton only a few weeks.

Neither of them has confided to friends when the wedding is to take place.

SAYS HE IS SANE MAJOR GENERAL WOOD AND MAP AND SCENES OF GREAT WAR GAME IN MASSACHUSETTS

Harry K. Thaw Issues a Statement

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Harry K. Thaw yesterday issued a statement reviewing the evidence given in his recent hearing on his application for release from the Massachusetts asylum.

"The best experts," said Thaw in his statement, "have informed me that if my insane man was questioned for 25 minutes as I have been questioned, he would assuredly show his insanity. As I have kept this up over 15 years in all, during the trial he received me nine 45 times over, for on average, said my 20 minutes during his 15 years of wild and unceasing fury, questions would have settled my insanity."

"It seems to me I must be perfectly sane if I had behaved, sensible men who slept in the same room with me, saw me undress and go to sleep and wake up, then eat my breakfast, dinner and supper, and who took me up on the mountains where I could have left them miles behind had I not been trustworthy," says Thaw. These and many other questions, headed by President Peabody of Princeton and Justice, some of whom have known me all my life, and bankers and financial leaders and police and prison keepers, have tested to observe both sane and insane men, arts, clerks, editors, lawyers, lawyers and the ex-governor of a great state all find me perfectly sane and none find anything unnatural at all."

"This seems to me to prove my sanity to the better men whether or not I could catch Mr. Justice in a fourteen and a half hour debate on every possible subject except the legalized debauches which he did not seem to want explained. May be explanations would have spoiled his hypothetical question."

ROGER O'MARA'S STATEMENT
PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 11.—Roger O'Mara has returned to Pittsburgh, and last night was willing to unequivocally declare Harry Thaw to be not only sane, but able to pass a lawyer's examination with credit right at the present time.

Mr. O'Mara says Harry Thaw will soon be liberated and will go to Europe, "but he may be excluded from the possible relief, except the legalized debauches which he did not seem to want explained. May be explanations would have spoiled his hypothetical question."

MILLION DOLLAR FIRE

Swept 36 Buildings at Monticello,
N. Y. Summer Resort

Dynamite Used to Stop Progress of the Fire -- Three Hotels
Filled With Summer Guests
Destroyed--Union Bank and Newspaper Offices Burned

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Aug. 11.—A fire estimated at $1,000,000, was caused by the fire which swept thirty-six buildings from the Main street of the summer resort town of Monticello, N. Y., last night. The buildings burned included hotels, stores and residence. The fire was under control this morning after a struggle of six hours.

Three hotels, filled with summer guests, mostly from New York city, were destroyed. They were the Roosevelt house, the largest hotel in Sullivan county; the British hotel and the Belmont house. All the guests escaped with most of their personal effects. The Belmont house was not burned. The Union National bank, both newspaper offices and every store but one in the town were destroyed.

When it was seen that the building long occupied with its appearance test section of the village was doomed, the firemen began to fire the wooden houses. By this means all the residents of the town were saved.

Monticello, ordinarily is a village of less than 2000 inhabitants, but on summer the population will be nearly 50,000. The houses and business houses were filled just enough to have begun in the electric telegraph station in the rear of the Post office on Main street. A high wind fanned the flames and the smoke billowed out so rapidly that it was unable to check their progress. The blaze bursting through the roof of the lighting station, attacked the Paddington Music Hall, a separate building in the rear of the Paddington hotel, and then spread to the hotel itself. The alarm was spread through the hotel promptly and its fifty or more guests hastily assembled their belongings and fled to the other three. Assistance was summoned from Peter Jervis and his son, and the summer boarders, not only in Monticello but from near by villages, formed volunteer fire companies. One of the Monticello companies was out of service early by being sent between burning buildings. The com-

NIGHT EDITION

THE SUTTON CASE

More Witnesses Testified at Today's Session of Court

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 11.—The re-examination today of the court of inquiry investigating the death of Lieut. James N. Sutton, U. S. M. C., seemed to bring the close of the case within measurable distance. Six more witnesses may be put upon the stand. Judge Advocate Major Lechner will cross-examine Henry Davis, counsel for Mrs. Sutton, and A. L. Blodget, representing Lieut. Adams, will argue. The judge advocate will then close.

H. R. Taylor, undersecretary, and J. N. Wieden, who prepared Lieut. Sutton's body for burial, both testified that there was no evidence that either of the arms had been broken. Wieden said there were no indications that he had been beaten though the witness had made no examination for such marks. Prof. Gilbert P. Colleman of the Naval academy said that he was in the company of Lieut. Sutton from lunch time until about midnight October 12, 1907, the night of Sutton's death, then leaving the officers with Miss May Stewart of Pittsburgh, Pa., in the assembly room of the hotel. Lieut. Sutton, he said, was perfectly sober at that time.

Lieut. Sumner, U. S. M. C., testified to seeing at the hotel the same night Lieuts. Adams, Ostendorf and Utley and asserted that all of them were sober at that time. Sutton, he said, entered the room and offered those in the party a drink from a bottle of which he was then drinking. Lieut. Sumner said he afterward went to sleep. After he awoke the next morning, Sutton having the coat unbuttoned and without his coat, came to him, which they agreed to remove, saw Lieut. Sutton on the ground. He also saw Lieut. Rockler, who appeared to have been injured, and taking him to camp found his clothing perforated by a bullet which was found in his garments.

The witness identified in his own words on which he had written "Sutton," I am a man fool. Consider the gun business out." This he had signed to the purpose of humiliating a witness of Lieut. Sutton on an occasion when the latter was very much intoxicated. The witness hoped that it would be a means of inducing him to go to his hotel peacefully.

Lieut. Sumner testified that Lieut. Sutton was not of good reputation among the other student officers and that he did not believe Sutton to be truthful.

WINS BACK CHILD

Countess Said to Have Paid An Enormous Sum

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—The Russian divorcee yesterday received a sum of several hundred thousand francs from the family of the Countess Gleyek, of Chicago, and thereupon the case made final decree, announced Monday, that the former Miss Eleanor Patterson is to be given immediately the custody of her child.

This is said to be the first time in the modern history of European royalty that a government has virtually been paid to restore a baby to its mother.

The denouement of yesterday also ends one of the most remarkable romances and domestic schisms in the annals of international marriages.

Miss Eleanor Patterson, daughter of one of Chicago's best known and richest men—Robert W. Patterson—and Count Gleyek in Washington one week in 1901, and married him the next. Her parents objected to a score of other suitors for her, but objected, and she was warned that if the middle-aged count she was seeking her husband had failed to receive an offer from St. Petersburg to Rome that should seriously inconvenience him in a summer.

But the society girl only became the more determined to accept his proposal when obstacles were thrown in their way, and the Pattersons finally yielded, because they must make the ceremony and the divorce assumption that Washington had known in years.

The couple went to Paris during the summer of 1901, and married there the next. Her parents objected to a score of other suitors for her, but she was warned that if the middle-aged count she was seeking her husband had failed to receive an offer from St. Petersburg to Rome that should seriously inconvenience him in a summer.

Her parents objected to a score of other suitors for her, but she was warned that if the middle-aged count she was seeking her husband had failed to receive an offer from St. Petersburg to Rome that should seriously inconvenience him in a summer.

Thereupon the court ruled for separation and adultery. The couple went to Paris. The daughter, Mrs. Patterson, was granted. But the court awarded her from Paris with a child in her possession and carried her to St. Petersburg. There she had a son taken away from her by her former husband.

The couple began a difficult battle to get back possession of the baby. Count Gleyek had for a year international law with his lawyer here; when she applied to the foreign husband and Mr. Justice, there were adamants—and she was not able to succeed in securing him a divorce.

But she was a woman of strong character. Her husband, Mr. Justice, and through the diplomatic efforts of the examining attorney who finally agreed to bring the case to the New York court, the count's demands were at last met and the baby was restored to the American mother in New York.

Just how much money was paid by which it was determined to what use it will be put is not known, but it will probably exceed $100,000.

Engaged by Mayor Brown as Counsel in Local Cases

Michael H. Sullivan, of Boston, Retained in Cases of McEvoy vs. the Mayor and Rollins vs. the Mayor

The mayor has another new attorney. Edward J. Tierney is still retained as counsel by the mayor, and whether or not Mr. Sullivan will have to do with the police court case has not been stated. Local lawyers are unanimous with considerable opinions to the effect that it was not necessary to go out of Lowell for a lawyer. This is the second time that the mayor has engaged him of the fact that he has gone out of Lowell. The first Boston lawyer employed by him was Judge McEvoy in receipt of a letter from Mr. Sullivan in which the latter advises him of the fact that he has been retained by the mayor and he asks Judge McEvoy for a declaration as to his legal rights.

When little Pete Burg was left on third base a well-known Dan Deane Lawrence street remarked that Pete must be an ice-cream as he froze to third. His friend, Paul Keele, demanded that he can all such stuff.

It was worth the price of admission to hear HI HI Dickson getting after Higbee."

Hamilton looked fit to be tickled when Werder side-stepped second base on a sure three-bagger.

Artist Hackelby of the Lynn team, the young man who was forcibly elected from the Lawrence grounds because Manager Eason thinks that cameras are abroad, was present and was not molested. Lawrence plays Lynn at Glen Forest on Aug. 18, and it is understood that 20 newspaper cameras even from all over New England will be on hand.

Murphy, who played right field for Lynn, was playing second base for Lawrence a few weeks ago.

Lynn has the nucleus of a permanent winning team next season.

Kane put up a good game at first base.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE

Burned Farm Buildings and Dwellings in No. Tewksbury

The fire that destroyed two fine and succeeded in saving most of the properties in North Tewksbury yesterday afternoon, the story of which appeared in The Sun last evening, is said

Mr. Cameron was unable to save any of the articles of furniture. So quickly did the fire spread that he and his family were powerless

TAX RATE FOR 1909 BEQUEST OF $50,000

Reduced From $20.40 to $19.60 Woman Will Get Share of a Large Estate by Several Causes

The Principal Being the Reduction in the State Tax and Elimination of the Armory Tax — The Increase in Real Estate and Personal Property

Lowell's tax rate for 1909, as was stated in The Sun, yesterday, is $19.60, a reduction of 80 cents on the rate for 1908, which was $20.40.

The reduction of 80 cents in the rate is due to the reduction of the state tax, a big gain in personal and real estate, an increase in the number of polls, a reduction of the overhangs and the elimination of the armory tax.

The gain in personal property year amounted to $1,755,160.33, and $704,110.

The valuation tables are as follows:

COL. POPE DEAD IOWA SENATOR

Pioneer Bicycle Manufacturer Passes Away

COHASSET, Aug. 11.—Col. Albert A. Pope of Boston best known as a bicycle and automobile manufacturer, died at his summer home on Jerusalem road, North Cohasset, at 5:15 yesterday.

Col. Pope, who had been ill failing health for the past two years or more, came to his summer home here last May when his illness became so serious as to alarm his family. Since then he has been more or less confined to his bed and Tuesday it was learned that pneumonia had developed. He was 65 years old.

With him when he died were the wife, his sons, A. L. and Rubin, and his sisters, Dr. Augusta F. Pope, Dr. Emily F. Pope and Miss Leonora Pope, all of Boston.

His daughter, Mrs. Freeman Hinckley of Boston, arrived soon after the death, and his third son, Harold L. Pope of Toledo, was notified of his father's death and is on his way here.

As yet no arrangements have been made for the funeral.

Few men who were respected or widely known in Boston, Mass., or even America than Col. Albert Augustus Pope.

He began his career as a plowboy at the age of 9 years, was a market gardener produce before he was 13; commanded a company of home guards when he was 18, and fought at the head of a company of the 33rd Mass. infantry in the Virginia battlefield before he was 19.

Not long afterwards he established a new industry in America, made a fortune for himself and others, and spent his money lavishly in every good work.

Col. Pope was born in Boston, May 20, 1843, son of Charles and Elizabeth (Bogman) Pope. He came from good old New England stock—the Popes, Pierces, Cods, Studebs and Neales.

ANTI-TRUST LAW

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Attorney-General Wickes arrived yesterday at his home at Cedar Hurst, L. I. For seven weeks he plans to devote his time in seclusion to the consideration of the Sherman anti-trust law, the interstate commerce act and questions incidental to the formation of the new customs court.

NORTH ADAMS, Aug. 11.—Mrs. N. A. Agan of Bracewell avenue has received notification from the attorneys of an uncle, Matthew Kavanaugh, who died last Wednesday in Bloomington, Ill., stating that she was named as a beneficiary in the will and would receive something like $600.

Mr. Kavanaugh, whom Mrs. Agan has never seen to know, was a cattle raiser who went west when young and came to one of the pioneer sheep ranches to Chicago. He amassed a fortune of $500,000, a portion of which was invested in the fertile lands of the middle west. About three months ago he became ill and last week died in a hospital. He was 54 years of age.

The main part of the estate went to the blood relatives of Mr. Kavanaugh, these being a brother, John Kavanaugh, a nephew, a son and two children, a daughter, Walnut, Kun, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Duncan of Mechanicville, all that money," said Mrs. Agan.

AN ERROR MADE

In the Appointment of Nashua Charter Commission

NASHUA, N. H., Aug. 11.—The appointment of Nashua's charter commission was again held up by the discovery of Alderman R. E. Proctor of a probable technical error in the appointments. They were made by the mayor at the last meeting and were held up pending investigation of the committee of aldermen, where after a long discussion, it was indefinitely postponed. During the discussion in the council it developed that the city farm is now in a loss of about $1000 to the city. Recently an attempt to make some money by selling some hay and it is now claimed other people besides those who purchased the crop are using the grass.

The recommendation of the finance commission a bond issue of $16,000 was voted. The bonds will be payable in 29 years from Sept. 1 at the office of the city treasurer or at the National Shawmut bank in Boston, and will bear interest at 4 per cent, payable semi-annually. Of the issue, $2,000 will be to take up indebtedness, $10,000 to meet a former bond issue and $1,000 to pay for the annex for the high school.

The aldermen voted to instruct the board of trade to advise the Boston & Maine railroad to change the name of stations in this city. It is stated that the railroad is agreeable to these changes.

The aldermen voted to instruct the city farm, now long since discontinued as a penal institution, to be opened last night. A resolution providing for the leasing of the farm came from the common council to the aldermen. It was held up and amendments were made including a clause authorizing the committee on lands and buildings to waive bids for its sale.

With these amendments the resolution was referred to the committee on aldermen, where after a long discussion, it was indefinitely postponed. During the discussion in the council it developed that the city farm is now in a loss of about $1000 to the city. Recently an attempt to make some money by selling some hay and it is now claimed other people besides those who purchased the crop are using the grass.

STATE FORESTER

Sends Note of Warning Against Forest Fires

Owing to the many forest fires which occurred during the very dry season which are still too numerous for comfort, the state forester has caused to be issued the following letter:

To the Mayor and Aldermen, Lowell, Mass.

Gentlemen.—The present season of extremely dry weather similar to the drought of a year ago, which caused such great destruction in our forests, has now produced a condition of great danger. The slightest spark may easily drop in the woods will cause a fire of thousands of dollars to a community.

Very truly yours,

E. W. FARNI, State Forester.

avere to accepting the nomination for president, although he expressed complete confidence in President Taft's willingness to carry out party pledges. He declared, however, that Taft would never again be a party issue and that every state and congressional convention between now and the next republican national convention would be asked to adopt tariff pledges and demands for tariff reduction.

MAN IS DEAD AS RESULT OF INJURIES RECEIVED IN RAID

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Patrick McNamee, aged 40, foreman at the stables for the North Shore Express Company in Lynn, died at the Lynn Hospital Monday night of injuries received while trying to escape from a police raid in a field at Rock Point, Lynn, Sunday.

The raid was on the 10th inst., when Chief of Police Larkin and Captain of Boys' Police in and served a search warrant. A number of men were in the room playing cards. Just after the raid McNamee was found lying on the money box owned by American Booksellers Association. He had been beaten up by the police in the room raid. As far as the police can learn, McNamee was trying to escape from the veranda and stairs of the building when a shot was fired at him. The ground in front of the building was a field.

At the time his injuries were received he was blindfolded and was carried to a friend's house, where he gained consciousness. Monday he was removed to the Lynn hospital his condition having become much worse. It was then found that his skull was fractured and he had received internal injuries.

SANITY OR INSANITY

Judging from the testimony in the Thaw case and several others of a similar kind it would appear that it is entirely possible to secure experts of high standing to prove that any man is insane or the contrary just as may be desired. These experts of insanity can make it appear that the sanest act has been committed and that the most insane act is based upon same motives.

POVERTY IN LONDON

Samuel Gompers has stated that he left London with a depressed feeling owing to the destitution he saw there. It is true that in spite of the greatness of the city, London shows a degree of destitution scarcely equalled in other parts of the empire. It is worthy of note also that the poor in London are allowed to frequent their poverty in the face of every stranger, whereas, in this country the men who goes out openly to beg in the streets will be arrested. It is nothing new for London to show destitution of the worst kind, but according to reports it is worse now than ever before. The drain of taxation for war and other expenditures has had the result of impoverishing the country with the result that pauperism is more common and the means of relief less abundant.

TURKEY SHOULD BE MADE TOLERANT OF CHRISTIANS

Every few years Turkey gives an exhibition of intolerance towards the Christians who happen to be within her dominions. Turkey has been defended by several European nations that have no interest in the maintenance of Mohammedan sway. Now that the Turkish government is in a state of transition in the direction of liberalism, these powers should insist that henceforth she grant to Christians throughout her dominions equal rights and privileges with her Moslem subjects.

If she does not see fit to do this, then the empire should be dismembered and divided among the great European powers. That would have been done long ago were it not for the general fear of destroying the balance of power on the international chess board of Europe. The time is ripe, however, to insist upon such a concession on the part of Turkey so as to prevent forever a recurrence of the Armenian massacres or the other outrages perpetrated upon Christian missionaries at one point or another throughout the Turkish domain.

SOUTH AMERICAN WARFARE

The South American republics continue to keep up the traditional warfare for which they are noted. If it is not Peru or Chile that are engaged in war it may be Venezuela and some other power, or when a republic cannot pick a quarrel with any of its neighbors, it usually splits up in two sections so that it can have a war of its own without external assistance. It would be difficult to mention a time when absolute peace prevailed among the republics of Southern and Central America. If the states are not fighting with one another they are engaged in stamping out rebellions against the established forms of government or the ruling authorities.

It is plain that out of such a chaotic state of affairs, there will be evolved in the course of time a number of states that will combine their forces for general control of all the South American republics and establish a union of states modeled after the plan of our own country.

Such an outcome may be far distant, it is true but it is destined to come with the onward march of civilization. It would be a boon to all the states involved to be under a common federal government working for the general good, while each state possessed the sovereign right to make its own laws and rule its destiny subject only to the national government under which it would be protected in case of danger.

At the present time none of the states is sufficiently far ahead of the others, either in power or in intelligence, to initiate a movement for a union of the existing states. Time, however, will regulate this and the general combination of all the states under one government will be made necessary by the opening of the Panama canal. It will serve to develop the commerce and industry of South America as nothing ever did before.

ONLY RADICAL CURRENCY REFORM CAN PREVENT PANIC

According to republican experts, the country will now enter upon a period of great prosperity. That no doubt is true inasmuch as the trusts and combines that have reigned in license in the tariff will endeavor to take advantage of the situation in order to derive every available dollar out of the tax system.

In all probability history will repeat itself in regard to the great prosperity we are to have. It will be time to begin for about ten years and then all the plunder will be over. The republican party in the meantime promises a series of reforms that will protect investors against a collapse and certain death, as were experienced during the years of 1906 and 1907.

The Allred Act is a good law, but it is makeshift at best, and will not prevent the schemes of the popular standardized institution with trust, a similar to the one at Wall Street, which would probably serve the purpose. None of the republican schemes of standardization have thus far proved effective in stopping the wild confidence of last and management, and even bankers' loans to speculators wealth. It will require some radical legislation to prevent this, especially for every panic leaves the people more afraid than they are before. The republican party will have to take decisive action in the matter of currency reform in order to prevent the tendency to panic in the last stage of financial storms.

President Taft is a man who should take up this matter and have some legislative remedy applied that will give our currency sufficient elasticity to meet all the demands of inflated business and that will sustain public confidence amidst even grave shocks, so as to prevent the feeling that causes every man to decide that it is best to keep his money in an iron box.

SEEN AND HEARD

A meeting was in progress at which the speaker had waxed eloquent on "The Perfection of the Head," illustrating that perfection had never been attained in the human race. And soon he turned to his audience:

"Take carefully, each one here, that every man and woman you meet, every man and woman you pass—have you ever known or heard of a perfect person? I mean truly perfect absolute?"

Silence reigned over the audience until there was a soft rustling of coats, and slowly there arose a delicate little woman, who, in a much voice, said: "I think I have seen."

The whole audience turned to look at the little woman as the surprised speaker said with a touch of irony in his voice:

"And may we know, madam, what was this perfect person?"

"I am the wife of my husband," she answered the mock tribute.

Now that the Turkish government is in a state of transition in the direction of liberalism, these powers should insist that henceforth she grant to Christians throughout her dominions equal rights and privileges with her Moslem subjects.

If she does not see fit to do this, then the empire should be dismembered and divided among the great European powers. That would have been done long ago were it not for the general fear of destroying the balance of power on the international chess board of Europe. The time is ripe, however, to insist upon such a concession on the part of Turkey so as to prevent forever a recurrence of the Armenian massacres or the other outrages perpetrated upon Christian missionaries at one point or another throughout the Turkish domain.

Samuel Gompers has stated that he left London with a depressed feeling owing to the destitution he saw there. It is true that in spite of the greatness of the city, London shows a degree of destitution scarcely equalled in other parts of the empire. It is worthy of note also that the poor in London are allowed to frequent their poverty in the face of every stranger, whereas, in this country the men who goes out openly to beg in the streets will be arrested. It is nothing new for London to show destitution of the worst kind, but according to reports it is worse now than ever before. The drain of taxation for war and other expenditures has had the result of impoverishing the country with the result that pauperism is more common and the means of relief less abundant.

TURKEY SHOULD BE MADE TOLERANT OF CHRISTIANS

Every few years Turkey gives an exhibition of intolerance towards the Christians who happen to be within her dominions. Turkey has been defended by several European nations that have no interest in the maintenance of Mohammedan sway.

SAYS HE IS SANE MAJOR GENERAL WOOD AND MAP AND SCENES OF GREAT WAR GAME IN MASSACHUSETTS

Harry K. Thaw Issues a Statement

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Harry K. Thaw yesterday issued a statement reviewing the evidence given in his recent hearing on his application for release from the Matteawan asylum.

"The best experts," said Thaw in his statement, "have informed me that if my insane man was questioned for 20 minutes as Jerome questioned me, he would assuredly show his insanity. As Jerome kept this up over 15 hours in all, during the trial, he proved me sane 45 times over, for the attorney asked only 20 minutes during his 15 hours of wild and extraordinary questions, which have settled any pernicious."

"It seems to me I must be perfectly sane if hard headed, sensible men who slept in the same room with me, saw me undress and go to sleep and wake up, then eat my breakfast, dinner and supper, and who took me up on the mountains where I could have left them miles behind had I not been trustworthy, say so. There and many others, tested by President Patten of Princeton and ladies, some of whom have known me all my life, and bankers and manufacturers, and police and prison keepers, accustomed to observing both sane and insane men also, doctors, farmers, lawyers and the ex-governor of a great state, all find me perfectly sane and none find anything irrational at all."

"This seems to me to prove my sanity ten times better than whether or not I could handle Mr. Jerome in a fourteen and a half hours' debate on every possible subject except the alleged delusions which he did not seem to want explained. May be explanations would have spelled his hypothetical question."

ROGER O'MARA'S STATEMENT
PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 11.—Roger O'Mara has returned to Pittsburgh, and last night was willing to unconditionally declare Harry Thaw to be not only sane, but able to pass a lawyer's examination with credit right at the present time.

Mr. O'Mara says Harry Thaw will soon be liberated and will go to Europe, "where in some specified spot, he will quietly rest, never again to touch a drop or pack a gun."

He added: "Mr. Thaw and Harry deserve all credit if the boy is freed. Evelyn will not be troubled with Harry's company. No more white lights or bubbling wine for him. He will live in the future for the mother. Harry Thaw is a 'safe sane' man."

DOUBLE TRAGEDY FISH AND GAME LAWS

Man Killed Hotel Proprietor and Committed Suicide

MIDDLETON, N. H., Aug. 11.—Hans McSorley, a former citizen of Lowell, and once two brothers, have been killed by the same gun which killed their father. The son, Hans McSorley, was the proprietor of the Hotel Ellington, the name under which he believed was responsible for his expulsion from the hotel. Both McSorley and Ellington were dead.

McSorley met Ellington at a crowded corner of West Main street shortly after 2 o'clock. Without a word or warning, drawing his pistol from his coat pocket in which it was concealed, the weapon was on the boy that shot him. Ellington was still conscious and he crawled into the hospital, where he died a few hours later. McSorley died in his sleep.

The last word to the boyish Ellington came to the unfeeling McSorley, who was in the ambulance. "It was McSorley who was on the boy that shot him," which took effect. Then saying that his old enemy was dead, he moved the smoking pistol from his

AN ITCHING PALM

No Cure For It. Other Forms of Itching Preferable

There is no cure for an itching palm—the money kind. Even postum, the new skin discovery, cannot help it. But when it comes to eczema, the most annoying of itching skin troubles, postum will stop the itching at once and cure the worst cases in a few days. So with jives, rash sores, split toes, piles, and scaly scalp, all of which are different forms of eczema, accompanied by severe itching and caused by imperfect digestion and careless diet.

Postum comes in two-dollar jars, but forty cents' worth will answer in curing any of the diseases mentioned. It can be had of any druggist. Falls & Burkinshaw & Carter & Sherburne make a specialty of it.

That results are immediate will be amply demonstrated overnight by the use of the recommended sample which the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York city, will send free by mail, in plain wrapper, to anyone who will write for it.

NORTHERLY GALE

DELAYED CRUISE OF N. Y. YACHT CLUB

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—A 40 knot northerly gale, with a touch of autumn in it, met the New York Yacht club fleet as it rounded Cape Cod and this morning several lightly sparred craft were in distress and no yacht had appeared at the finish line at Cape Elizabeth, Me., although more than a score of supposedly able craft were at that time more than 22 hours out from Vineyard Haven, a distance of 152 miles.

The fleet left the start, off East Chop yesterday, and moments began before 30 miles had been made. First, the schooner Somers was blown off her topsides on Nantucket shoals and ran back into Vineyard Haven to repair the damage. Then the fleet encountered a northerly gale off Cape Cod which gave them a dead beat to the windward of 120 miles. Daylight disclosed more disasters.

The observer at Highland light saw the steamer Massachusetts pick up one sloop off the cape, completely dismasted, and take her in tow for Boston.

Shortly after another sloop was seen driving south by the gate with a bag in her rigging set down. The life savers at Nauset reported that a small tender equipped with a gasoline engine had been blown ashore there during the night, and at Pamela river, four miles below Highland light, another sloop was picked up on the beach.

Two small yachts passed south along the cape under bare poles, with the wind still blowing between 40 and 50 miles from the north.

The observer at Portsmouth reported that a schooner yacht off Roon Island, apparently in distress, was being towed toward Portsmouth by a tug.

The composite steamer of the New York Yacht Club, anchored off Cape Elizabeth lightship at 6 a.m., but not a single yacht had appeared at 9 a.m., and the revenue cutter Androscoggin, which came in from the westward, was asked to turn back and assist any yacht in distress.

FIRST YACHT ARRIVES

PORTLAND, Aug. 11.—The first of the yachts of the New York Yacht club arrived in the harbor shortly before 11 a.m. today. They were the canoe into the harbor this forenoon.

Arrangements were made for the cutter to tow the boat to the dock of Pollock while swimming.

THREE DROWNED

Naval Tug Nevinscot Capsized off Halibut Point

Rockport, Aug. 11.—In staggering round Cape Ann before a northerly gale and loaded to her gunwales with anchors, the naval tug Nevinscot, Captain Evans, bound from Portsmouth for Boston, capsized on Halibut Point about 10 a.m. today, carrying down three members of the crew and compelling the others to take to the boats.

The boats were: Cook, White, Chapman, Taylor.

The second officer, the captain's wife and her little boy, and four of the crew, landed at Lanesville, two hours later and reported that Captain Evans, the surgeon, the engineer and several seamen were drifting out to sea before the gale on the life raft. Half an hour later a dozen fishing boats put out from here, as well as the life saving crews from Gloucester and Gloucester.

The Nevinscot left Portsmouth at 12 o'clock this morning with a cargo of anchors, anchor chains and semicirculars for the battleship Missouri. The Nevinscot was a boat of low deck and her cargo brought her down until her decks were nearly awash. She was run aground by the officer and a crew of about 10 men with Captain Evans in command. He hails from Quincy Mass., and has been in charge of many battleships for the Port River Supplying Co. during their trials on the New England coast.

There was a strong western gale blowing when the Nevinscot left Portsmouth, so Captain Evans lagged the ship as far as possible. This he found a mess for Cape Ann. As the gale went farther off shore the seas began to rise and off Halibut Point the little boat rolled so fearfully that her engine room was flooded. Captain Evans ordered the single boat swam off and put in her the second officer, his wife and little boy who had accompanied him on the trip.

Scarcely had the boat dropped into the turbulent seas than the Nevinscot took a lurch and plunged beneath the waves.

The captain, surgeon, engineer and three or four of the crew managed to help themselves aboard the life raft, which had been cut away and then Captain Evans ordered the ship's boat to pull the boat ashore.

When the boat landed the second officer immediately noticed the life saving stations on the capes and nearby fishermen that the life raft was being blown steadily to sea by the gale and that help was needed at once.

He also notified the commandant at Portsmouth that a tug M. Mitchell Davis would leave at once in search of the raft.

The tug M. Mitchell Davis with a wrecking gear and a diver from the Portsmouth navy yard, arrived off Cape Ann at 10:30 a.m. and prepared to begin a search for the sunken tug.

It was believed that the Nevinscot would be found in about thirty fathoms of water off Halibut Point, but whether she could be raised from such a depth was a matter of conjecture and some doubt was felt.

The commandant at the Charlestown navy yard had ordered the naval tugs to proceed in search of the life raft.

Massachusetts and other eastern states are represented, and foreign tourists are frequently represented than other places.

Why it is usual for great numbers to be here at this time of the year, is due to the busy season for tourists.

Indeed, the fact that so many tourists are now in private in the city, the great number of the temples of Massachusetts and the odd facilities of the Marconi, the wireless, are part of the reason.
